Laramide Resources Appoints Bryn Jones as Chief Operating Officer

Toronto, Canada – Laramide Resources Ltd. (TSX/ASX: LAM) is pleased to announce that Bryn Jones, MMinEng, has been appointed Chief Operating Officer for the Company. Mr. Jones will lead the development of the Westmoreland Uranium Project in Queensland, Australia. Prior to his appointment, Mr. Jones was Managing Director of Uranium Equities Limited, an ASX listed explorer and developer of uranium extraction technologies.

Mr. Jones is an Industrial Chemist and Fellow of the Australian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy with 16 years' experience in the Australian uranium industry covering all aspects of the mining cycle. While at Uranium Equities, Mr. Jones successfully managed and financed the PhosEnergy development from concept to feasibility study level, which is being jointly developed by Cameco Corporation and PhosEnergy. Prior to Uranium Equities, he worked in several technical and operational management roles at Heathgate Resources, the operator of the Beverley Uranium Mine in South Australia. Bryn also worked for Worley Parsons on the Olympic Dam Expansion Project and consulted on various In-Situ Recovery (ISR) operations around the world.

Mr. Jones contributes to several programs with the International Atomic Energy Agency, as a technical expert, in the area of ISR uranium mining and also holds a Master's degree in Mining Engineering focusing on Mine Industry Management from the University of New South Wales.

Marc Henderson, President and Chief Executive Officer of Laramide, states: "We are very pleased to have Bryn join our Executive team in Australia. With the change in Queensland government policy towards uranium mining and the prospect for a much improved mid-term contracting market in the period 2016 to 2018, we believe now is the time to move the Westmoreland Project forward more aggressively.

Mr. Jones will join Laramide effective on the 1st of April and will be based in Laramide's Brisbane office.

Laramide shares are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange and the Australian Securities Exchange under the symbol LAM.
